BOOK OF THE YEAR 1968

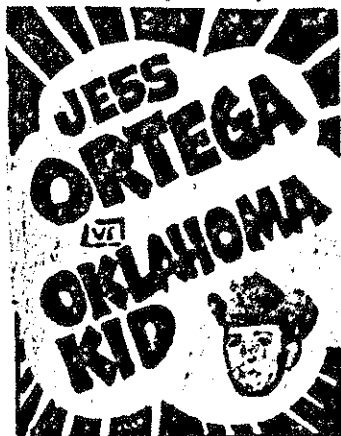

A LOOK BACK AT 1968

One of the Midwest's brightest stars was a cowboy wrestler billed only as "The Oklahoma Kid". Sadly, while this was the year he was really beginning to enter the ranks of top stars, it would also be the year of his death.

Add Extra Seats For Saturday Mat Show

Promoter Bob Luce has installed 1,000 extra seats for Saturday's International Am- anticipation of an all-time in- anticipation of an all-time in- door record turnout for Chi- cago that may exceed 12,300.

The arena normally seats 11,000 for wrestling. The Am- phitheatre record is 12,011 set Dec. 9, 1960 when standing room was permitted.

The headline event is what Luce calls a "natural" attrac- tion pitting world champion Verne Gagne against 27-year- old Blackjack Lanza, a vir- tual unknown preliminary wrestler until a year ago. Lanza is undefeated in 12 straight Chicago bouts begin- ning Aug. 11, 1967.

Lanza has the statistical edge. He outweighs Gagne by 44 pounds, 276 to 232, is taller by seven inches.

In five Chicago bouts this year Lanza has beaten Wilbur Snyder, The Crusher, Igor Vodik, Big Luke, and Pat O'Connor, in that order. It will be the first time Gagne has ever wrestled Lanza.

Iron Mike Takes on Redskin At Indian's Favorite Sport

Iron Mike DiBiase is a darling man.

The former Omaha Tech High and University of Nebraska football hero went up against stiff odds during his grid career.

But tonight he'll really defy the odds as he takes on Billy Red Cloud, the Indian brave, in the City Auditorium Arena's mat feature.

It's a chain match, the favorite pastime of Chief Billy. Favorite? Well, the Indian has never lost a chain match here. The grapplers will be linked to a chain for their no-time-limit, no-disqualification match. It'll end when either Mike or Billy is able to haul the other completely around the ring.

Four bouts will back up the rare Sunday offering.

Semifinal sends Big Luke Brown against the masked man, The Avenger. The mask will come off only if Big Luke wins two of the three falls—via pins.

Chris Tolas, who won a bloody match recently from Woody Farmer, will give Farmer a chance for revenge in the special event.

A pair of one-fallers will find Pampero Firpo making his first start here in many months against Frankie Lane and Reggie Parks tackling Mike York.

Starting time has been advanced an hour—with the opening bout booked for 7:30 p. m.

One of wrestling's roughest tag teams ever was persuaded to come out of retirement by Buffalo, New York's promoter Bobby Bruns.

Dr. X: Record Proves I'm Top Wrestler Now

MYSTERIOUS DR. X

DUTCH SAVAGE

The Mysterious Dr. X may not have too many followers, but when he makes a point, few can generally contest his facts.

Example: A few days ago, he posed this question:

"I've been around here a long time now, and everyone keeps knocking me, but has anyone nailed me for two submission falls in a single bout yet? And that includes the great Verne Gagne. He was strutting around town before the match in the Met Sports Center, telling everyone that it was the end of the line for me. Well, I'm still masked, and Gagne is suddenly hard to locate."

Playing every angle to full advantage, Dr. X stresses that he should be considered king of the roost because no one has unmasked him yet.

"It takes a good man to beat me in just one pinfall, let alone two during the same match. I don't plan on taking off this mask ever."

His biggest gripe?

"Everyone knows it's just a matter of time before I wear Gagne's belt. But now I can't get Karbo to sign him against me. I guess he had his fill at the Met Sports Center. And what's all this malarkey about Gagne being too busy? He was available then, and he should be any time."

Dr. X chuckles when anyone mentions the $10,000 forfeit money he had to post before the March 30 match with Gagne. "Did anyone think I was fool enough NOT to show up? I'm not about to allow 10 grand to slip through my fingers that easily."

Reminded that most of the criticism leveled at him centers on his brutal tactics—which include punishment after his opponent is helpless, Dr. X snarled: "That's the name of the game all over the country. If they can't stand the heat, they can always leave the kitchen."

And how about Dutch Savage, his opponent in the big battle tonight?

After 6 Month 'Delay'

Hennig-Race Start All Over Again

It took a half a year, but Larry Hennig and Harley Race have teamed up again, and their goal is obvious to everyone—win back the world tag-team championship they lost when Hennig was hurt last October.

Tonight, Hennig and Race form a team for the first time since last fall. They were champs then, but had to relinquish the honors when Hennig went out of action.

This is their first bid in the long climb back, and the opposition isn't exactly a push-over—Cowboy Bill Watts and Big Luke, offering a combined weight of better than 600 pounds.

"These clowns don't worry us," Race said. "We've been up against their type before. When you start all over again, you are at the mercy of the promoter. You have to take any booking he gives you, and it's generally against a couple of clods like this."

Obviously, Hennig and Race are eyeing a bout with Mitsu Arakawa and Mr. Moto, the Japanese pair who currently rule as world tag champions.

"Yeah, that's the top of the stack right now. It might take a few weeks, but we'll get 'em—you can bet on that," Race said with narrowed eyes.

Neither said it, but there's the little matter of disposing of Watts and Luke first, and that's certain to offer some rugged moments.

Watts and Big Luke aren't strangers either. They have teamed up before, and each knows the others' moves and capabilities pretty well now. Not only that, the two offer some awesome, brutal power when in action.

"We figure the advantage is ours," Watts said in his Oklahoma style drawl. "Hennig has been out of it for a while, and I don't care how much savvy a guy has, it takes a while to get adjusted again. We don't plan to give them enough time to work out anything," the Cowboy concluded.

How does Big Luke analyze it all?

"I don't like either one of them, and I'll put 'em away as fast as possible, using any means. I'd like to crush their heads together like egg shells," he said with a smirk.

Here's How Savage vs. X Bout Started

Tonight's big battle between Dr. X and Dutch Savage was almost inevitable, but there was a definite reason why promoter Wally Karbo signed this natural.

HENNIG

During a recent televised bout at WTCN-TV, Hard Boiled Haggerty offered to break Dr. X's leg lock in an effort to pocket some quick cash.

Just as Dr. X had Haggerty's legs in the vice, Mad Dog Vachone entered the ring and joined Dr. X in a clobbering spree with H.B. as the victim.

It didn't take long before Savage leaped into the ring and decked both Vachone and Dr. X.

That was the incident which triggered the big battle tonight between Dr. X and Savage.

Among other things, it also served to cement the fans' admiration for Savage. In recent weeks, Dutch has amazed some with his attitude.

Most noteworthy was a bout a few weeks ago when Savage teamed with Larry Hennig. He quit his own partner when he detected Hennig trying to conceal a foreign object in his knee guard.

"I don't go that route, and no one wrestling as my partner is going to pull that either. There are rules to be followed, and I plan to stick to 'em," Dutch concluded.

Hennig was furious after Dutch's decision, and immediately branded Savage as a "character." Hennig said he's never experienced anything like it, and indicated that he may have a chance to "return the favor" in a bout against Savage. "It's pretty obvious Savage isn't my kind," Hennig snorted.

NEW STARTING TIME PREVAILS TONIGHT ONLY

The 7 p.m. starting time for tonight's bouts in the Minneapolis auditorium is a special time for these matches only.

The regular 9 p.m. starting time will be back in effect after these Sunday bouts.

Wrestling fans are also reminded that Daylight Savings Time starts the last weekend in April, and during matches in the summer, it won't begin to get dark until that time.

And still another summer reminder: The auditorium is completely air-conditioned, so don't worry about the summer heat.

Gagne Analyzes Role of Champ

The list of contenders still trying to sign for a match with world champion Verne Gagne hasn't diminished any lately.

In fact, it seems to grow more every day.

Local fans know that all the top men in this area are demanding a bout with the champ—but it goes far beyond that.

"Gagne is in demand all over the country. Trying to sign him for a Minneapolis bout is tough," promoter Wally Karbo pointed out.

It's the same old story, but true: When you are on top, everyone wants a crack at the fame and fortune that goes with the title belt.

How are contenders selected in other large cities to go against Gagne?

"I generally leave it up to the local promoter to send his best man against me, but I do some screening myself," Gagne said. "After all, it would be a waste of everyone's time if I went against some green kid who really didn't belong in a title bout."

Kappel-Sharkey Battle Could be Title Preliminary

The opening match tonight which sends Austria's Bob Kappel against Eddie Sharkey might just be a stepping stone to a junior heavyweight match in the near future.

Junior heavy champ is Danny Hodge, and he doesn't lose many—but opponents are always needed.

Both Kappel and Sharkey are gunning for a match with Hodge, and promoter Wally Karbo said there's a better than average chance that the winner tonight will get that bout.

Johnny War Eagle Headed for This Area

Before too many weeks go by, a full-blooded Iroquois Indian will be on the local wrestling scene, and early reports indicate he's quite a scrapper.

His name is Johnny War Eagle, a 221-pounder who stands just 5-9. He's presently making his home in Canada, and reports are encouraging.

"They tell me he could be a real contender with all the top men we have here," said matchmaker Bill Kuusisto.

Gagne pointed out that promoters all over the country do an excellent job of selecting only the top men.

"You bet it's a tough grind," the champ said.

"Often I know nothing about the man I'm going against—and he's generally the local favorite. Not only that, the challenger quite often comes into a title match against me well rested and very familiar with my style."

Has Gagne experienced any difficulty recently with his controversial sleeper hold?

"The veterans who have been around for a while cause most of the trouble. They scream that it's a choke hold, and sometimes the going gets a little rough. I know it's legal, and the ring referees must agree, because he's never instructed me to break it—at least not recently."

Asked about the local scene, Gagne emphatically stressed that he would love to take the mask off Dr. X, but says the circumstances leading up to it are often worse than the proverbial government 'red-tape.'

"Dr. X covers his trail pretty well. He's no dummy either, although I deplore his so-called wrestling style. I know now that one of his best weapons is to get his opponent steaming mad. This usually results in a disqualification in his favor—and eliminate the possibility of taking off that mask, because the pin fall is lost when you are disqualified. Yeah, he'll even see to it that he's disqualified if the situation is bad enough. This also saves his neck."

"I think the only way he'll get unmasked is to toss out that stupid rule about two submission falls—and eliminate the disqualification angle. Maybe a battle to the finish would turn the trick."

Any comments about Mad Dog Vachone's desire to have a title bout?

"Vachone is the greatest noise maker in the sport. I'll admit the guy is tough in that ring, but I don't think he should receive any special recognition for a title bout any more than the other top men. He insists I 'stole' the belt from him. I think the fans realize that isn't true."

Gagne continued with: "I hope Dr. X and Vachone don't feel they have the Minneapolis situation all to themselves. I'll take on either of them any time. Wally Karbo will work out the details. Then we'll see who starts running."

BIG LUKE READY FOR TAG BATTLE

Savage Has Own Formula for the Mask

Mighty Dutch Savage doesn't claim to be the most intellectual man in pro wrestling, but he's sure he has worked out the winning formula to make certain Dr. X's mask comes off after tonight's big windup battle.

It takes two of three submission falls to unmask the man of mystery, and no one has been able to accomplish this feat yet, including Verne Gagne.

"I can't give you my entire battle plan, because it would be senseless to tip off my opponent, but I think one thing a man has to be certain of when he meets this Dr. X in a match of this nature is to keep your temper. Disqualifications don't really accomplish anything, because as far as I'm concerned, beating him isn't quite enough. I want that mask off him as much as the fans do."

Asked about Dr. X's wide-open, pier-six style of brawling, Savage shrugged his shoulders and added: "I guess you have to expect this. It isn't my style of wrestling, but there's always retaliation you know. Just so a man doesn't go berserk and defeat his own purpose."

Fans agree that Savage is about as tough an opponent as Dr. X could expect. Dutch has won the admiration of local fans in his few weeks on the scene with his rugged style, and there are those who will take a wager right now that the long masked identity of Dr. X will be known tonight.

Dr. X...

"Savage is spending so much time trying to be a nice guy, I think he forgot how to wrestle. And don't fill me up with statistics on how big this guy is. There's no one bigger and more brutal than Dr. X."

Fans are reminded that the Savage-Dr. X windup match is two of three falls, and the mask comes off if Dr. X drops a pair.

Hennig Saving 'Last Laugh' for the Champ

It fits Larry Hennig's style to have the last laugh.

Not too many weeks or months ago, there were those who openly admitted that Hennig probably wouldn't return to pro wrestling after suffering a near crippling knee injury in a Winnipeg battle with Verne Gagne.

Hennig even admits it was a long, tough road back.

"Yeah, there were times when I was mighty discouraged. I never once thought anything but returning to the ring, and I'm sure this helped my cause. Every time I closed my eyes, I could see the smirking face of Verne Gagne, and after that, I KNEW the day would come when I would have a chance to settle the score."

The injury took place in October, and Hennig didn't get back into action until the March 30 matches at Met Sports Center.

"You bet it felt good to climb through those ropes again. If for no other reason, I could laugh at the 'experts' who said I was washed up—and that includes Gagne."

His plans for the immediate future?

"Harley and I are going after that tag-team title, you can be sure of that. In the meantime, I want bouts—against anyone. The day isn't too far off when I'll face Gagne in that ring again, and when it happens, pro wrestling will see a new era."

Big 'K' Brings Back Impressive String of Wins

The appearance of Big K on the local scene doesn't exactly start a mob rush of autograph seekers, but it proves his point that he's been knocking 'em over at various major cities in the central portion of the country.

Big K told a group here a few months ago that if he couldn't get any satisfaction out of promoter Wally Karbo in seeking title bouts, he would hit the trail and come back with an even more impressive record.

That's exactly what he's done. The Minneapolis native has compiled quite a record in such towns as St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago and Omaha.

"This guy is always dangerous," commented matchmaker Bill Kusisto, "Rene Goulet will have his hands full tonight."

THE MIGHTY IGOR

MAD DOG VACHONE

Vachone-Igor Winner Tonight Eyes Title Shot

There's no official word yet, but it's a pretty good guess that the winner of tonight's match between Mad Dog Vachone and Mighty Igor will be in line for a title battle with champ Verne Gagne.

One thing is certain: Both feel they deserve the shot, and will stop at nothing to make the hurdle tonight that could well assure the winner of that position.

Vachone, of course, still insists he didn't actually lose to Gagne at a time when he (Vachone) wore the champion's belt.

"It was a conspiracy with Gagne and Karbo," Vachone shouts through clenched teeth and with bulging eyes.

Igor, probably one of the most popular grapplers with the fans, has strength that sometimes even amazes him. It's an old story now that you can break a concrete block over his head, and he could probably win a tug-of-war with a team of horses.

He still has trouble mastering the English language, but like most people in this category, he gets his point across.

Wally Karbo, who speaks Igor's native Polish, summed it up this way recently: "Igor feels he's the best wrestler in the world. He wonders why he can't go against the champion to prove his point. I told him that day may not be too far away."

Haggerty Returns to California to Keep Eye on Business Interests

Using his usual smooth delivery, Hard Boiled Haggerty asked SPORTS FACTS to relay this message to fans here: "Tell these intelligent people I'll miss 'em."

Haggerty made plans to head back to Hollywood, Calif., this week to fulfill movie and television contracts, and it's not known right now just how much he'll be available in Minneapolis.

"Oh, I think I got the short end of things in my match with Verne Gagne—and Dr. X also for that matter, but these things have a way of leveling off. I expect I'll have a chance to get either or both of these guys before too long. I'm not going to retire, you know."

Haggerty said it is extremely difficult for him to get away from Hollywood for any length of time. "I have so many things going for me, I just have to keep track of loose ends out there," he added.

STORY OF BOBBY BRUNS: WRESTLING'S GREATEST PROMOTER

Bobby Bruns studied law at Northwestern University but never got around to practice his profession, because wrestling still was in his blood. Bobby Bruns was especially agile and in a very short time became one of the world's finest wrestlers, meeting and defeating champions from countries all over the world.

The transition from a successful wrestler to a successful promoter came naturally for Bobby Bruns.

The last 20 years as a wrestling promoter have been nothing short of sensational in terms of match-making and enormous gate attendances. These were accomplished only because of his great promotional abilities.

The best wrestlers in the world are easily attainable by Bobby Bruns because his name is synonymous with big purses. Wrestling's biggest names know that any Bobby Bruns promotion draws big money gates and that means more money in their pocketbook.

Under the promotional guidance of Bobby Bruns, locations such as St. Louis, and all of Japan have been sellouts and thrilling matches for the fans. St. Louis has been attracting 12,000 fans regularly, paying about $30,000 per show to watch the matches under the promotional ability of Bobby Bruns.

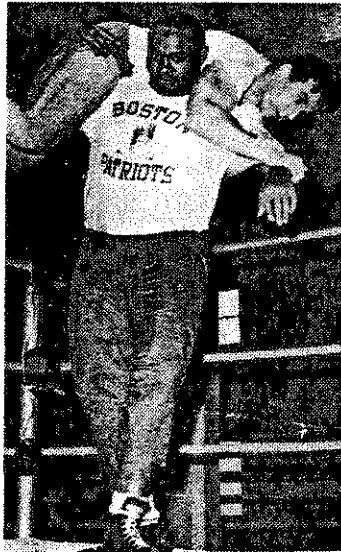

This Parade of Champions opening show is the match-making genius of Bobby Bruns. He has brought together all the wrestling champions recognized by the wrestling world for this opening card on Saturday, April 6th at the Memorial Auditorium.

Bobby Bruns, the most successful wrestling promoter in the world, has taken over the wrestling reins from Pedro Martinez, a pillar of the mat game in the Buffalo area for the last 20 years.

The energetic Bobby Bruns knows wrestling from A to Z. He developed a tremendous amount of interest in the wrestling game when a young man, and today has blossomed into the world's most respected promoter.

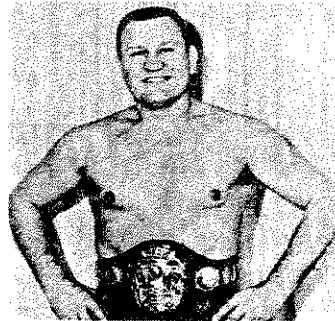

Bobby Bruns' career is filled with exciting stories, many of them relating to combat in the Navy while a Lieutenant Commander at Midway.

INFORMATION

Bobby Bruns, the world's greatest promoter and matchmaker is the world's greatest listener and critic of his own shows.

He's extending an offer to all the greatest wrestling fans in the world (meaning the Buffalo fans) to call him, wire him, write him or get in touch with him in any way about his wrestling promotions. Tell him of your likes and dislikes, he's open to suggestions at all times.

Don't forget the world's greatest promoter and matchmaker wants very much to hear from you. He'll be a familiar figure in the City of Buffalo, stop him on Main Street or in a Buffalo restaurant and talk to him about wrestling. You'll find he's a good listener and a very interesting man.

Call him at 854-6171 or write to the Erie Wrestling Club, 234 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y. 14202.

matches several years ago, the glamorous but rugged Kiniski was oh'd and ah'd by a total of 120,000 fans.

The talented Kiniski, the people's choice, will meet Hans Schmidt, the German born madman who makes a habit of losing friends each time he enters the ring.

Argentina Rocca, who boasts a talent no other wrestler ever approached because of his uncanny use of his legs, meets one of the games top unorthodox performers in The Mongol. Rocca is a complete wrestler, whose name is biggest in the New York City area where 20,000 crowds are the rule rather than the exception.

When the experts said this card was overflowing with wrestling champions they were never more right.

Next on the program comes Crusher Lisowski, the 258-pound Milwaukeean who carries around with him the tag of North American wrestling champion.

He is a brawling type grappler who seldom gives you an opening. This is where young, handsome and aggressive Johnny Powers, the Hamilton, Ont., good guy will have his problems.

MORE CHAMPIONS

You'll thrill to the sight of Eduardo Carpentier, the French professional mat champion, and twice Olympic champion in 1948 and 1952.

You'll see a champion football player in action. He's Jim Nance, the All-Star American Football League selection as a performer with the Boston Patriots. He's no novice at this game as he was twice National Intercollegiate heavy-weight wrestling champion while attending Syracuse University.

THOMAS, ZUMA GO FOR ATLANTIC COAST TAG TEAM TITLE

by Gene Gordon

Popular ART THOMAS and buddy, AMAZING ZUMA get their chance at winning the Atlantic Coast Tag Team Title when they meet the blond bombers, RIP HAWK and SWEDE HANSON in a return bout tonight. I missed last week's action, but from what I heard it must have been a real battle. Sailor Art says, he will demolish both Hawk and Hanson alone if he has to. The big man with the powerful muscles was very irked at Hawk for the brutal way he used the "deadly pile driver" on his pal last week. "Zuma lay in the dressing room on a rubbing table for some time trying to get his tense nerve muscles relaxed," says Sailor Art. "He finally made it to the shower, but his neck was so stiff and sore he could hardly move it." Tonight, both ZUMA and the SAILOR MAN are out for blood. "I don't trust either one of them", says Thomas. "You have to watch them every minute for fear they might try a sneaky attack."

Thomas plans to soften them up with his "Head Butt" which he calls "The Big Hurt" and then put the pressure on with his "Bear hug."

WOLFF vs. MAULER

LES WOLFF, a newcomer to Charlotte will tangle with THE MISSOURI MAULER. Wolff has quite a background and has had excellent training for his professional wrestling career. Against the Mauler, he will be meeting one of the toughest foes he has faced so far. Wolff hails from St. Cloud, Minn. The husky 250 pounder was a football star in College and a College Wrestling Champion. He met the best, including Oklahoma State, which has produced more College Champions than any others. In 1964 he won the Midwest Title in Greco Roman and Freestyle and also, qualified for the Olympic trials that same year. In a later issue I will give you more information on this spectacular young mat star.

AMAZING ZUMA

RIP HAWK

JOHNNY WEAVER

WEAVER & MATSUDA CLASH FOR SOUTHERN TITLE

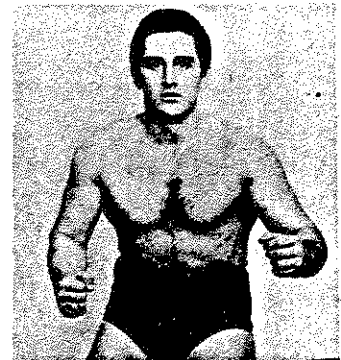

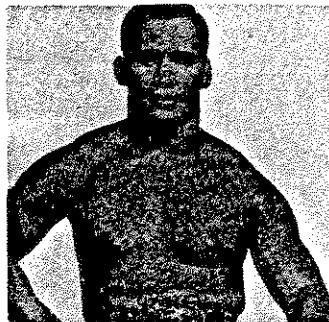

JOHNNY WEAVER, a long time favorite will risk his Southern Heavy-weight singles Title against HIRO MATSUDA. This shapes up as being a most interesting match. Matsuda, one of the most outstanding Oriental ACE WRESTLERS Promoter Jim Crockett has ever booked here will be a real test for the popular Champion. Not since the great Mr. Moto was in his prime, have we seen an Oriental grabbler with such great ability as Matsuda. He is a former Worlds Junior Heavy-weight Champion and would like very much to hold the Southern Title. He will have to be at his best to beat Weaver though, who rates with the best scientific stars around, but can wrestler rough if forced to. Look forward to seeing a great battle, no matter who wins.

HIRO MATSUDA

BECKER MEETS LEON BAXTER IN SPECIAL BOUT

Ever popular GEORGE BECKER faces one party of "THE GAUCHOS" on tonight's attractive card, meeting LEON BAXTER. Baxter is a fiery wrestler who uses all of the tricks and would like to win at all cost.

GEORGE BECKER

STEAMBOAT, HAWAIIAN CHAMPION vs. BURNS

Hats off to Promoter Crockett. Tonight he is bringing back another top name. Most of you are familiar with SAM STEAMBOAT. This popular Hawaiian star has appeared here several times in the past and has been seen on Championship Wrestling from Tampa, Florida. Let's give him a hearty welcome. He's a terrific wrestler who has a million followers all over the country. He meets a newcomer, ROBERT BURNS in tonight's opening prelin.

Last Saturday you saw COLONEL HOMER O'DELL on TV. What's with this Character? Will we have to put up with this weasel again? We thought we were rid of this varmit when he sold his contract as manager of ALDO BOGNI and BRONCO LUBICH to Mr. GEORGE HARRIS. Now this controversial figure is still shouting that "I am still the greatest manager who ever lived and they can't do without me." It is rumored that he might manage HIRO MATSUDA and THE MISSOURI MAULER. If so how about suggesting this match- MAULER and MATSUDA vs. LUBICH AND BOGNI with their managers.

Tony Borne, Mayne Take Mat Crown

Lonnie Mayne and Tony Borne upset Pepper Gomez and Pedro Morales and captured the world heavyweight team title at the Armory Monday night.

The championship brawl was decided when the challenging Mayne and Borne blended their talents to win two falls after losing the first to the defending champions.

Gomez earned the first fall for his side when he pinned Mayne, but the Blond Bomber returned and flattened Morales, bruising him in the process.

Forced by the injury to his partner to carry the load, Gomez successfully resisted the rushes of Mayne and Borne for some time but was finally subdued when Tony leaped on him from the top rope, then rolled him over for an easy pin.

In supporting action, Luigi Macera and Tom Andrews grappled to a no-fall draw. Beauregarde took one fall from Cowboy Kirk, the Crusher gave similar treatment to Sandy Barr and John Kostas pinned Kay Fabian.

First Mat Card Has Familiar Look

Everything finally, was right at the new Garden last night. There was nobody picketing; the scoreboards weren't needed; the ceiling wasn't leaking (it didn't rain); and Bruno Sammartino won his match on the first mat card, before 12,989.

Sammartino, billed as the "Abruzzi strongboy," defeated Bull Ramos, billed as an Apache Indian, with a hold billed as a "backbreaker" after 12 minutes and 43 seconds. Sammartino, who had never lost in all his exhibitions in the old Garden, thus retained his world championship, symbolic of his international popularity, before a crowd of 12,989.

In a midjet tag team match Little Beaver of Quebec and Little Jackie of Dublin, defeated Sky Lowlow of Montreal and Little Brutus of Italy.

In preliminary exhibitions, Virgil Butcher beat Edouardo Carpentier; Victor Rivera defeated Hans Mortier; Professor Tanaka drew with Don Denucci; Miguel Perez topped Gil Gordon; and the Shiek of Syria beat Lou Cerdan.

NOTE: Virgil Butcher on the above card later became better known as Big John Quinn.

NOTE: Mighty Ursus on the card in Toronto was known in other areas as Jess (Bull) Ortega. He has since passed away.

Tony Altamore and Lou Albano, the colorful Sicilians, will be reunited again the tag-match semi-final when they take on the Montreal pair of Jacques Rougeau and Eddie Auger. This will be a one-fall event with four other bouts completing the show.

Veteran Larry Moquin will match his speed against that of Terry York from Hamilton. Another Hamiltonian, Bill Terry will face Scotsman Mat Gilmore. An all-Montreal affair will bring together Gerard Dugas and Cowboy Jones in the other single event.

Wrestling Revival Set For Forum On Monday

They've already started tearing out the walls and soon the roof will come down in the renovation of the Forum.

It wouldn't be right to let the echoes of the late Eddie Quinn, the feats of Yukon Eric, Dan O'Mahoney, Argentine Rocca, Lou Thesz, Strangler Lewis, The Angel, Bruno Sammartino and other mat greats pass into demolition without a last wrestling show at the old arena.

The revival is slated for Monday night when Promoter Bob Langevin shifts his weekly show from Paul Sauve Arena to the Forum. The eight-bout card promises to bring back memories of all the grunts, groans and laughs enjoyed by thousands when Montreal was the hub of the sport on the continent.

Yvon Robert, the idol of local mat fans for years, will be on hand as guest referee of a feature bout, made authentic in wrestling lingo by being billed for the international heavyweight championship.

Veteran Montrealer Johnny Rougeau, once a headliner at the Forum, will oppose rugged Russian Yvan Koloff in the best-of-three falls.

Another old Forum entertainer, Parisian Edouard Carpentier is slated for the co-feature and will take on The Sheik in another best-of-three falls affair.

The card will present 24 wrestlers with four tag-team matches among the other bouts.

Baron Fritz Von Raschke and Hans Schmidt, the colorful German duo, will match their rough tactics against the weight of Bill Miller (310) and Dan Miller (252), both of Columbus, in one fall to the finish.

Gino Brito teams up with Jacques Rougeau against Brute Martin of Vancouver and Scotsman Matt Gilmore in a 30-minute match. Lionel Robert partners Juan Lopez in a 20-minute tussle with Don Serrano and Pat Lawrence.

Little men also will be in action in a team match when midgets Little Beaver and Jamaica Kid oppose Sky Low Low and Little Brutus.

Larry Moquin, a veteran who started under Eddie Quinn at the Forum in 1942, will take on Joe (Killer) Christie of Branford.

Dale Roberts of Vancouver meets Montrealer Gerard Dugas in the other single bout.

Kiniski Wins Amid Hassle

World heavyweight champion Gene Kiniski was stretched out on the canvas when his hand was raised in victory over Fritz Von Erich before the, biggest wrestling crowd in 10 years at the Coliseum Friday night.

Kiniski had been laid out by the Iron Claw, but Von Erich, who had dragged Kiniski from outside the ring with the hold, had gotten into a hassle with referee Lou Thesz. Thesz was still outside the ring recovering.

As Von Erich pinned Kiniski flat, Sky Hi McKenzie leaped into the ring and counted the champion out. Bedlam broke loose as the crowd agreed with Sky Hi that Fritz was the new champion.

But Thesz staggered onto his feet and countered the decision as he sent Dick Raines into the ring to pull Fritz's hand down and raise Kiniski's. That brought on another wild pushing scrap between Thesz and Von Erich but the decision stood.

Evelyn Stevens kept her Texas state title when she beat Jessica Rogers two out of three falls; Sky Hi McKenzie whipped Pedro Valdez; Dusty Rhodes upset Argentine Apollo; Pantera Negra beat Jack Vansky and Seiji Sakaguchi beat The Bulldog.

Tojo Team Disqualified In Wild Bout

Tojo Yamamoto attempted to put some seasoning into a wild tag team battle last night at the Fairgrounds Coliseum and it resulted in the match winding up with a salty call by the referee.

A PAID audience of 4,380 was vocally happy — if still a tad incensed — when Tojo was detected using salt to blind Dennis Hall and awarded the third and deciding fall to the victim and his teammates — Ken Lucas and Len Rossi.

Tojo had resorted to the underhanded tactics while attempting to free his partner, Sugi Sito, who at the moment was in the grip of an abdominal stretch by Hall. While Sugi had a stomach ache and Tojo on the verge of his questionable act, the other member of the losing team, Gentleman Saul Weingeroff, was being pummelled by Rossi.

Not satisfied with the win and the unsportsmanlike manner in which Saul and his Japanese buddies accepted defeat, the winners proceeded to thrash the losers in "overtime" as the crowd went wild.

TOJO HAD used a double judo chop for the first fall division, with Rossi the victim. The second fall went to Lucas, who applied his famous sleeper hold on Sito.

Gene Kiniski, recognized as NWA world heavyweight belt holder in 42 of the 50 states, won a best of three fall match from Tamayo Soto and retained his belt.

Tarzan Tyler and Brute Bernard, accompanied by manager Dandy Jack, made a spectacular debut last night in a bruising one fall tag match with Les Thatcher and Corsica Joe. Tyler put the decision away when he caught Corsica Joe with a knee lift off the rope.

Von Erich Is Mat Winner

Fritz Von Erich left no doubt that he is the American heavy-weight champion and the No. 1 challenger for the world's title by beating Louis Thesz with an iron claw in the final fall of a rough main event at the Coliseum Friday night.

Thesz came into the ring in bad temper and carried the match to Fritz even before the bell rang. He scored the first fall in fast fashion winning with a flying body scissors in 4:54.

Most of the second fall was fought outside the ring with Thesz using every trick in the book to keep Von Erich from getting into the ring. But when Lou made a rush and tried to leap for a flying head scissors Fritz caught him with a right from outside that set him up for the fall.

In the final fall Fritz got the iron claw on Lou's head.

Kurt Hess lost on a disqualification to Chief Big Heart; Pantera Negra and Rene Goulet turned in a crowd pleasing draw while newcomer Frankie Hester looked good but lost to Spoiler Two in 8:35 of the opener.

Hart, Smith Mat Winners

Gary Hart defeated Smasher Sloan in a grudge main event here at the Coliseum Friday night, much to the displeasure of the crowd.

Sloan, who was known as Spoiler Two, took the first fall but ran into a disqualification when he ran into referee Dick Raines in the second. The crowd didn't like the penalty.

In the third fall, Hart caught Sloan in the throat with an elbow as he rushed off the ropes.

In the other half of the twin main, Grizzly Smith was awarded the final fall on a disqualification over Baron Raschke.

Show stealer of the night came when Butcher Jardine, better known as Spoiler One, was battling Dr. Dan Miller. Jardine angered fans when he came into the ring wearing his mask and then proceeded to rough Miller up.

When Waldo Von Erich, who had earlier beaten Pantera Negra, stormed in to get even for something Spoiler had done to his brother Fritz last week, it caused a turmoil and brought a disqualification to Miller.

Billy the Kid won the midget match from Jay Cox; Frankie Hester and Rene Goulet drew and in the mixed tag team.
